Read the following newspaper story and answer all the questions.

Dog Eats Golf Balls

Chris Morrison and his dog, Oscar, regularly walk on the golf course near their home. Chris takes Oscar there at least once a day, in good or bad weather. The dog loves racing around the golf course and searching for lost balls. Even though he has never played golf in his life, Chris has collected over four hundred balls in the past three years. Several weeks ago Oscar started to be less interested in going out for walks. At first Chris thought he was just being lazy, but he became worried when he noticed a strange sound coming from Oscar's stomach.

Chris immediately took his dog to the vet, who said that an operation was necessary straight away as it seemed Oscar had swallowed several golf balls. Sure enough, thirteen golf balls were removed in an hour-long operation. Not only that, but the vet also took out two small squeaky toys belonging to Chris's nephew. However, what particularly amazed the vet was the fact that Oscar's eating habits hadn't changed. Even with all those balls in his stomach, he still ate his two meals a day.

After the operation Oscar stayed overnight at the vet's. Unlike many of the other dogs there, Oscar was the perfect patient. He didn't bark at all during the night, but seemed calm and comfortable almost immediately. The only time he lifted his head was to lick the vet when he put his hand into the cage to check the bandage.

The following day Chris took Oscar home, where he ran straight to his bowl and ate all his food. For a couple of days Oscar wasn't interested in going out, but now he is back to normal. He enjoys his daily walks on the golf course again, but now he wears a muzzle to stop him from eating any more golf balls.
